Kansas City Power & Light

Kansas City, MO

Kroll Security Group (KSG) was retained by Kansas City Power and Light (KCP&L) in 2001 to provide security surveys of their existing facilities and to assist them in consolidating their security operations.

KCP&L, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Great Plains Energy Inc., a leading regulated provider of energy related products servicing over 500,000 customers in 24 western Missouri and eastern Kansas counties. KCP&L's facilities include headquarters facilities, coal fired and natural gas turbine electrical generation facilities as well as customer service buildings and other support facilities.

Security Services included:

- Security Assessments
- Detailed field surveys to review existing facilities
- Assist in making recommendations for an electronic security systems consolidation plan
- Assist in developing uniform security standards for all facility types
- Designed and engineered an enterprise level Access Control and Alarm Monitoring System with integrated CCTV systems, into a centralized Security control center

KSG continues to serve KCP&L needs by providing consulting services as needed for system upgrades and new facility deployments.
