Hyatt Center

Chicago, IL

The Hyatt Center, located in downtown Chicago, was the first high-rise building to break ground in Chicago post 9/ 11. As such, security was a big concern during the planning and construction of the 47-story multi-tenant office building.

Kroll Security Group was hired to complete security systems design and services for the construction of Hyatt Center itself and for several of the tenant build-outs within the building.

The Hyatt Center opened in 2006.

"The design reveals how architects can deftly layer security features into their buildings rather than letting the need to fortify overrun the desire to beautify."
